Wake Services Tonight for Former Washington Man

Wake services for Kazo Takano, who died Friday at the hospital, will be held at 7 p.m. tonight at 17-25 with the Rev. Kankai Izuhara officiating. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the same locale. Formerly of Washington, he is survived by his widow, Suga, of Japan and a daughter, Yonoko Sakota, of Tule Lake.

General Information

A request to purchase a Washington state liquor control board license, type E and F together, or type F alone, for use in the Seattle area; also type C and type D for use in the Whidby Island area has been received at the evacuee property office. Residents holding any of these licenses are asked to contact the evacuee property office.

Residents who have borrowed any of the following books are asked to return them immediately to the library: "Fountainhead", "Weeping Wood", "Till I Come Back To You", "Strange Woman", "Victory Through Air Power", "Bombs Away", "Almanac--1943, Winston Dictionary", "Websters Dictionary", "Valley of Decision".

H. P. Scott and Harry Mayeda, representatives of the Curtiss Candy company of Chicago, will arrive Wednesday afternoon to interview residents (male and female) for work in the company's factory and farm, James L. Rush, relocation adviser, announced. Those interested should leave their names and addresses at either the relocation office or the outside employment office.

Residents are requested by Virgil Payne, social welfare head, mention the names and addresses of those they wish to visit when wiring the social welfare department for visitors' passes. Without this information, housing arrangements cannot be made, Miss Payne said.

Inductees from Santa Fe and outside institutions must report to the housing section of the social welfare department within 24 hours of their admission into the center, Virgil Payne, social welfare head, announced. They are required to bring their alien registration books, Miss Payne added.

The Red Cross election meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the USO lounge, Mrs. Ed Matsuda, treasurer, announced.

Rosie Matsui, police chief, warned residents against breaking windows in mess halls and laundry rooms.
