

MEMO

from

NIKKI BRIDGES

March 18, 1979

Dear Karen,

It is presumptuous of me to edit this letter. However, I have done so.

I feel strongly about the last paragraph where the "whites" are blamed. All Americans ~~to~~ must be included. And, "white establishment," a cliché, should be changed. I felt the last sentence was weak too.

In the interest of a more logical presentation, I would recommend that paragraphs two and three be transposed.

Thanks for doing what you're doing.

Love,

Nikki

MEMO

from

NIKKI BRIDGES

March 18, 1979

Dear David Ishii:

Because the time is short, I am sending my "edited letter" direct to you rather than to Karen Sereguchi.

Should you disagree with my suggestions, I will not feel affronted. I'm glad the letter is being published.

Thanks again.

Oh. I sent $25 earlier. Please remove my husband's name, a Japanese "Harry Bridges," for he is not Issei, and add the name of our daughter, Katherine Bridges, Sansei.

N. B.